

CALLING PROCEDURES (Rev2c May 2023) INTERNATIONAL EIGHTBALL RULES

Endorsed and recognised as the official calling procedures by

The intention of the document is to offer referees guidance and a clear structure on how to referee a match. Players may also wish to read this so they are familiar with the calling procedures of a referee. The purpose of this guide is to reduce the referee's involvement in a match mainly aided by the simple, but effective, international eightball rules.

Before the start of any match, it is expected that a referee shall know the official rules of pool (International eightball rules) used in the competition/tournament and also any further additional rules set out by the tournament director.

You are to be responsible for upholding:

- The dress code required under the competition/tournament before the players enter the arena. If there is anything you are unsure of or is borderline, refer the matter to the tournament director.
- You should also be aware/vigilant of any form of intoxication, mostly drugs/alcohol but not limited to. Again refer this issue to the tournament director.
- The laws/rules that govern the game of pool.

Players can request a sensible amount of comfort (toilet or drink) breaks during a match. The comfort breaks must not be used for cigarettes or meals - you should deny the request.

Notes:

- Your call is in bold
- Words in 'Italics' are guidance to making a call.
- Where highlighted in (red) replace with what is being suggested when making your call
- Where highlighted in (red) AND has a "/" omit the incorrect word for the statement you are calling.

1. The start of the match

CALL: Count the players in: 3, 2, 1, lag

Upon deciding a winner of the lag CALL: (player name) wins the lag.

Proceed to rack the balls for the first frame and offer the cue ball to the incoming player.

CALL: 1st frame, (player name) to break.

2. During the match, thereafter the first frame

No call is required.

7b. Legal break, Balls potted (obvious group choice, player nominates)

If you agree with the player's nomination, CALL: (Yellows/reds) nominated.

If you disagree with the player's nomination, CALL: No nomination required.

This is to stop players from abusing the nomination rule where they create a deliberate 'loss of turn' situation. For example, obvious red, player nominates red, player proceeds to pot a yellow.

CALL: (Yellows/reds) nominated.

- Scores tied: (6 red shoot-out in use)
CALL: Match drawn, 6 red shoot-out, retrieve a red and yellow ball then remove all remaining balls from the playing surface ready for the players to lag for the right to choose who goes first and second in the shootout.
- Upon scores tied: (draws allowed)
CALL: Match drawn, shake hands with the players and remove all the balls from the playing surface.

Guidance for a 6 red shootout

Players to lag for the right to choose who will go first and second

Proceed to rack the balls with the head ball on the head spot so that the middle ball of row three is on the black spot.

Explain to players

The clock will start when they strike the cue ball.

The clock will stop when the last red leaves the playing surface, because it's easier to see the final red ball go down the pocket than it is to know if the cue ball has stopped moving.

Players always have to play a legal shot, it's a 5-second penalty for any foul (including any foul that occurs after the last red is potted), which is added onto the time at the end of a completed 6-red clearance.

The cue ball and intended red ball 'on' need to be stationary when striking the cue ball but all other red balls can be moving.

Always keep hold of the cue ball and have the stopwatch in hand ready, you can then CALL: In your own time (Players forename).

First player's attempt

Start the timer on the stopwatch as they strike the cue ball.

Stop/pause the timer on the stopwatch as the last red leaves the bed of the table.

Record the time and add any additional penalties if necessary. Check for any unsure fouls by way of VAR and/or a second referee (if either is present).

Second player's attempt

Start the timer on the stopwatch as they strike the cue ball.

Stop/pause the timer on the stopwatch as the last red leaves the bed of the table.

Record the time and add any additional penalties if necessary. Check for any unsure fouls by way of VAR and/or a second referee (if either is present).

Note: the second player may decide to quit on the clearance if they feel the time to beat has surpassed or is not achievable. They may walk away from the table or proceed to shake hands with the opponent, conceding the shootout and match.

You are now in a position to declare a winner of the shootout and match.

CALL: (Players Name) wins the shootout and match, shake hands with the players and remove any remaining balls from the playing surface.
